Catmate, the eco-friendly wood pellet litter that is the ideal solution for pet owners seeking quality litter that is easy to use and super absorbent. It contains natural oils that inhibit the growth of odour causing bacteria. Thanks to higher absorbency, Catmate, lasts much longer than most regular animal litters, saving you valuable time and money. One kilo of wood pellet litter can soak up nearly 3 litres of odour causing liquid. Catmate is 100% biodegradable and compostable, our natural wood pellet cat litter can be used as garden mulch for your lawns and providing nourishment for your flowers all year round.

The team behind Dr Zoo has a background in creating natural products for humans (MooGoo Skin Care). Dr Zoo came to life when many of our MooGoo customers told us they were using the MooGoo Shampoo on their pets, especially itchy pets, and they were getting awesome results. With the expertise and background of MooGoo, we decided to develop a natural range of skin care for our beloved pets. As you may know, pets share some of the same skin problems as humans, but the skin of our pets is a little bit different than ours, so we modified our products by adjusting the pH to suit them.
